The Bowl of Desires

A beggar came to an emperor and said, "If you are going to give me anything, there is a condition." The emperor asked, "What do you mean by your condition?" The beggar replied, "I accept only if you can fill my begging bowl absolutely." "What do you think I am? Am I a beggar? I cannot fill this small begging bowl?" said that king "It is better to tell you before, because later you can get into trouble. If you think you can fill it, fill it." replied the beggar.

The king called his vazir and told him to fill it with precious stones; diamonds, rubies and emeralds. Let this beggar know with whom he is talking! But then there was difficulty. The bowl was filled but the king was surprised – as the stone fell into it, it would disappear. It was filled many times and each time it was again empty. Now the king was in great rage but he told the vazir, "even if my whole kingdom goes, if all my treasuries are emptied, let them be –but I cannot allow this beggar to defeat me. This is too much."

And all the treasures, it is said, disappeared. The king had nothing left. Finally, the king had to fall at the feet of the beggar and said, "Forgive me, but before you leave, just tell me one thing. What is the secret of this begging bowl? All has disappeared in it." The beggar started laughing. He said, "It is made of human desire. Everything disappears in it, nothing ever fulfils it."

The begging bowl is like the human mind filled with desires. Only those who have understood the futility of human desires die like kings.

Just for Laughs

A man checked into a hotel. There was a computer in his room, so he decided to send a mail to his wife. He accidentally typed the wrong email address, and without realizing he sent the mail to a widow who has just returned from her husband's funeral. The widow decided to check her mail, expecting condolence messages from relatives and friends. After reading the first message she fainted. The son rushed into the room, found his mother on the floor and saw the computer screen which read:

To my loving wife, I know you are surprised to hear from me, they have computers here and we are allowed to send mails to loved ones. I've just been checked in. How are you and the kids? The place is really nice but am lonely here. I have made necessary arrangement for your arrival tomorrow. Expecting you darling. I can't wait to see you.

Don't laugh alone pass it on...

Joyful Journey

Once, Lord Indra got upset with Farmers, HE announced there will be no rains for 12 years & you won't be able to produce crops.

Farmers begged for clemency from Lord Indra, who then said, rains will be possible only if Lord Shiva plays his Damru, but HE secretly requested Lord Shiva not to agree to these farmers & when farmers reached Lord Shiva he repeated the same thing that he will play Damru after 12 years.

Disappointed farmers decided to wait till 12 years but one farmer regularly was digging, treating & putting manure in the soil & sowing the seeds even with no crop emerging.

Other farmers were making fun of him. After 3 years all farmers asked that why are you wasting your time n energy when you know that rains will not come before 12 years.

He replied " I know that crop won't come out but I'm doing it as a matter of practice. After 12 years I will forget the process of growing crops n working in the field so I must keep it doing so that I'm fit to produce the crop, the moment there is rain after 12 years???"

Hearing his argument Goddess Parvati praised his version before Lord Shiva & said You may also lose the practice of playing the Damru after 12 years.

The innocent Lord Shiva in his anxiety just tried to play the Damru, if he could, and hearing the sound of Damru immediately there were rains and the farmer who was regularly working in the field got his crop emerged immediately and others were disappointed.

Debriefing of this story

The game is won during the practice, not during the performance. If you are waiting for the good opportunity before you start practicing, then you have lost the race.

"Practice is boring but that's what makes your performance interesting".
