DESIRE changes NOTHING
DECISION changes SOMETHING
But DETERMINATION changes EVERYTHING

A VERY SPECIAL BANK ACCOUNT

Imagine you had a bank account that deposited Rs. 86,400 each morning. The account carries over no balance from day to day, allows you to keep no cash balance, and every evening cancels whatever part of the amount you had failed to use during the day. What would you do? Draw out every last rupee each day? YES?

We all have such a bank. Its name is Time. Every morning, it credits you with 86,400 seconds. Every night it writes off, as lost, whatever time you have failed to use wisely. It carries over no balance from day to day. It allows no overdraft so you can't borrow against yourself or use more time than you have. Each day, the account starts fresh. Each night, it destroys any unused time. If you fail to use the day's deposits, it's your loss and you can't appeal to get it back.

There is never any borrowing time. You can't take a loan out on your time or against someone else's. The time you have is the time you have and that is that. Time management is yours to decide how you spend the time, just as with money you decide how you spend the money. It is never the case of us not having enough time to do things, but the case of whether we want to do them and where they fall in our priorities.

LET IT GO!

A psychologist walked around a room while teaching stress management to an audience. As she raised a glass of water, everyone expected they'd be asked the "half empty or half full" question. Instead, with a smile on her face, she inquired: "How heavy is this glass of water?"

Answers called out ranged from 200 ml to 600ml.

She replied, "The absolute weight doesn't matter. It depends on how long I hold it. If I hold it for a minute, it's not a problem. If I hold it for an hour, I'll have an ache in my arm. If I hold it for a day, my arm will feel numb and paralyzed. In each case, the weight of the glass doesn't change, but the longer I hold it, the heavier it becomes."

She continued, "The stresses and worries in life are like this glass of water. Think about them for a while and nothing happens. Think about them a bit longer and they begin to hurt. And if you think about them all day long, you will feel paralyzed - incapable of doing anything."

It's important to remember to LET GO of your stresses. As early in the evening as you can, put all your burdens down. Don't carry them through the evening and into the night. Remember to put the glass down!

THAT IS ITS NATURE

A man saw a snake being burned to death and decided to take it out of the fire. When he did, the snake bit him causing excruciating pain. The man dropped the snake, and the reptile fell right back into the fire.

So, the man grabbed a metal pole, took the snake out of the fire and saved its life.

Someone who was watching, approached the man and said: "The snake bit you. Why are you still trying to save it?" The man replied: "The nature of the snake is to bite, but that's not going to change my nature, which is to help."

Do not change your nature simply because someone harms you. Do not lose your good heart, only learn to take precautions.

NEW LAW TO REGULATE LOGISTICS PLAYERS

Keen to lower the burden of high logistics cost for businesses, estimated at around 14%, the government is planning to enact a new law to regulate and make the sector more organised besides putting in place a policy to simplify procedures and processes.

The proposed law on multi-mode transport will require all road transport operators, shipping lines, railways and airlines to register with a self-regulatory organisation so that the liability of the companies using the services are covered. Over a period of time, the plan is to track cargo movement.

The move will also help the government regulate shipping lines, which currently dock at Indian ports, often without being tracked. Anyone who does not register will not be able to move goods.

While the government has enacted the Multimodal Transportation of Goods Act in 1993, the law only covers exports. The plan is to repeal the 25-year-old law as the new legislation will include domestic transport as well as exports and imports whenever a consignment is shipped using at least two modes of transport.

Separately, a logistic policy is also being readied with a proposal for the cabinet being drafted where processes ranging from registration of businesses to packing and warehouses are being addressed.

THE COMPETITION

Once there were four managers. Their names were: Somebody, Everybody, Anybody, and Nobody. They were very busy people, but whenever there was an important job to be done, Everybody was sure that Somebody would do it. Anybody could have done it, but Nobody did it. When Nobody did it, Everybody got angry because it was Everybody's job. Everybody thought that Somebody would do it, but Anybody realized that Nobody would do it. So consequently Everybody blamed Somebody when Nobody did what Anybody could have done in the first place.

Now they all worked in the same company, and their company held a competition: Could Anybody in the company produce the best logo? Everybody had a good idea. Nobody thought Anybody would follow it through. Somebody thought Anybody could work on it. Anybody thought Everybody should do it. Everybody thought Somebody would do it. So Nobody did anything. Everybody thought Anybody could win something. Anybody thought Somebody should win. Somebody thought Everybody would win. Nobody thought Nobody would win. So, what did they win? Nothing!
