Dear All

I have always been a dreamer. Four years back while sitting in the reception area of L&T - waiting to be called by the project manager, the idea about having our own newsletter took birth. The inspiration was L&T's in-house magazine. I was told that the newsletter could be circulated only within our staff members. I wanted to share this with our customers, partners, vendors and well-wishers. Thanks to our Sandesh Khaladkar's efforts, we got our registration number and official permission to publish a magazine which can even be sold. Coming soon is the inaugural issue of "FEI DUNIYA" in a new avatar! Please welcome and support it. FEI DUNIYA It's your world.

The month of June has always been special to me for years. Initially it was because I got new books, bags, shoes, etc for my new class at school. And I would look forward to meeting a new set of teachers and peers. Then when I got married, my wife's birthday happened to be in the month of June, and to my happiness, even my son Abhijeet was born in June. I have never forgotten my son's birthday, but let me admit it - I forgot to wish my wife on her three birthdays, in the 23 years that we lived together.

To compensate for these lapses, I wish to "celebrate" Shailaja's birthday on 24th June. This may sound very unusual, but I am a different person when it comes to matters of the heart. I am sure you will support my unusual excitement and join me in celebrating your favorite Shailaja Madam's birthday.

A defined programme for the 24th of June will follow soon.

Thanks and Best Regards
Pratap Nair

Feeling Good
on Day One

Seeing friends you haven't seen in a while can make the first day a good one. It can make you feel good to be prepared and have all the supplies you need. Some schools distribute supply lists before the year begins, so you can come stocked up on pencils, folders, and whatever else you'll need. Once you've covered the basics, you might tuck an extra dollar or two in your backpack for an emergency (like forgetting your lunch money). Or maybe you'd like to bring along a book or magazine to read while you're on the bus.

Whatever you put in your backpack, make sure you pack it the night before. This prevents the morning panic when you can't find your homework or lunch box. Speaking of lunch/snacks, that's something else, that can help you feel good at school - whether it's the first day or the 100th day. Pack it the night before if you don't like what's on the menu at the cafeteria. Try to include a variety of foods in your packed lunch, especially fruits and vegetables.

Here are a few final tips for a fantastic first day and the next, and the next:

- ❖ Get enough sleep the previous night
- ❖ Eat a healthy breakfast
- ❖ Try your best
- ❖ Develop good work habits, like writing down your assignments and turning in your homework on time
- ❖ Take your time with school work. If you don't understand something, ask the teacher

Chennai Branch

People who are in the industry know well that it's extremely difficult for a rank outsider to make an impact in the Chennai freight forwarding industry. We knew this well, when we started this office in 1995. Our working for the initial years were no different from what we had expected.

However in October 2004, we took a very bold step to transfer one of our very good managers, Mr. K. B. Radhakrishnan as branch manager of Chennai office and General Manager for South India. Today, the Chennai branch contributes highly to the profits generated by the group.

Mr. K. B. Radhakrishnan handles the international division of FEI group as well. We wish him and his teammates in Chennai, all the very best in the coming days.

Two glasses of wine...

When things in your life seem almost too much to handle, when 24 hours in a day are not enough, remember the mayonnaise jar and the 2 glasses of wine... A professor stood before his philosophy class and had some items in front of him. When the class began, wordlessly, he picked up a very large and empty mayonnaise jar and proceeded to fill it with golf balls. He then asked the students if the jar was full. They agreed that it was. The professor then picked up a packet of small marbles and poured them into the jar. He shook the jar lightly. The marbles rolled into the open areas between the golf balls. He then asked the students again if the jar was full. They agreed it was.

The professor next picked up a box of sand and poured it into the jar. Of course, the sand filled up everything else. He asked once more if the jar was full. The students responded with a unanimous 'yes'. The professor then produced two glasses of wine from under the table and poured the entire contents into the jar, effectively filling the empty space between the sand. The students laughed. 'Now,' said the professor, as the laughter subsided, 'I want you to recognize that this jar represents your life. The golf balls are the important things; your family, your children, your health, your friends, and your favorite passions; things that if everything else was lost and only they remained, your life would still be full.' The marbles are the other things that matter like your job, your house and your car. The sand is everything else; the small stuff. 'If you put the sand into the jar first,' he continued, 'There is no room for the pebbles or the golf balls. The same goes for life. If you spend all your time and energy on the small stuff, you will never have room for the things that are important to you.'

'Pay attention to the things that are critical to your happiness. Play with your children. Take time to get medical checkups. Take your partner out to dinner. Play another 18. Spend another hour fishing. There will always be time to clean the house and mow the lawn. Take care of the golf balls first; the things that really matter. Set your priorities. The rest is just sand.' One of the students raised her hand and inquired what the wine represented. The professor smiled. 'I am glad you asked. It just goes to show you that no matter how full your life may seem, there's always room for a couple of glasses of wine with a friend.'

Apparently there is nothing that cannot happen today

Remembering

Shailaja

Here is a test to find whether your mission on Earth is finished:
"If you're alive, it isn't."

- Richard Bach

Shailaja was on a mission. She was here as a daughter to give joy to her parents. She was here as a friend to share some laughter with her peers. She was here as a wife to be with her partner through thick and thin. She was here as a mother to bring into this world, a new life. She was here as a colleague to guide and lead her team. She was here as a human to help and care for the less privileged.

Shailaja was born on 24th June 1960. Her small task on earth was outlined, and she was asked to fulfil her mission within a specific time frame. She played the various roles assigned to her with elan and responsibility.

Her performance was greeted with love, applause and cheer. And at the curtain call, she received a standing ovation!

Take a bow, Shailaja - you are immortal.

On 24th June, 2008
Shailaja Nair celebrates her 48th birthday!
Happy Birthday Shailaja

"Good Bye"

Hello Everyone,

As you may be aware, I am leaving FEI in pursuit of my career and today i.e. 9.5.2008 is my last working day.

Life takes it's turns and it's one of those moments that one has to bid "good bye" to the people you love and wish to remain associated with.

The association with FEI has been a wonderful experience and surely it would not have been wonderful without each one of you contributing with your best abilities, extreme charm and zest to excel. It is heartening to see wonderful lot of people working together towards a single objective.

Moving ahead, I carry with me the moments in a few 'picture shots' in my mind which indeed have become part of my experience with life now. I would like to thank you all for the excellent support and co-operation rendered by you during my tenure in the organization. It has been a very enriching and exciting experience working in such a congenial environment.

Thanks for being there when I needed you the most and I wish you, your families and the FEI family good health and every good fortune in the times to come.

Please feel free to contact me post departure at my personal mail id mat_radha@yahoo.com or my mobile No. 9810458571

Good luck and best wishes

☺ God Bless!

Thanks once again,

P. RADHAKRISHNAN

"Excuse me not"

There's always room for improvement, but certainly not for excuses, believes this natural leader. Unassuming and light hearted, he is like today's 'no-frills' airlines. He leads a very humble life and lives it to the fullest. His wit and humor can keep those around him, happy.

Presenting Lahu Muley! The birthday boy of 2nd June!!

Currently, branch manager and a member of the top management, Lahu joined us in 1990. From the very beginning he had a positive attitude towards a specific goal: 'success through dedication'.

His determination to achieve his goal received the right support from the management and his colleagues. And Lahu has not looked back since then.

We wish him the best and pray that more people like him join the FEI family.

You can send in your wishes to Lahu at: mumbai@feicargo.net

A box full of kisses

The story goes that some time ago, a man punished his 3-year-old daughter for wasting a roll of gold wrapping paper.

Money was tight and he became infuriated when the child tried to decorate a box to put under the Christmas tree. Nevertheless, the little girl brought the gift to her father the next morning and said, "This is for you, Daddy."

The man was embarrassed by his earlier overreaction, but his anger flared again when he found out the box was empty. He yelled at her, stating, "Don't you know, when you give someone a present, there is supposed to be something inside? The little girl looked up at him with tears in her eyes and cried, "Oh, Daddy, it's not empty at all. I blew kisses into the box. They're all for you, Daddy."

The father was crushed. He put his arms around his little girl, and he begged for her forgiveness. Only a short time later, an accident took the life of the child. It is also told that her father kept that gold box by his bed for many years and, whenever he was discouraged, he would take out an imaginary kiss and remember the love of the child who had put it there.

In a very real sense, each one of us, as humans beings have been given a gold container filled with unconditional love and kisses... from our children, family members, friends and God. There is simply no other possession, anyone could hold, more precious than this.

Some interesting facts,

- ❖ India invented the numerical system. Aryabhatta invented 'Zero'.
- ❖ The place value system, the decimal system was developed in India dating back to atleast 100 BC.
- ❖ Algebra, trigonometry, and calculus originated in India. The quadratic equation was solved by Sridharacharya in the 11th century. The Greeks and Romans contented themselves with rather small numbers, while Hindus (the then inhabitants of the land of Sapta-Sindu) used units as big as 10 raised to the power of 53(1053) with specific names as early as 5,000 BC, during the Vedic period.
- ❖ The value of pi was first calculated by Budhayana, and he explained the concept of what is now known as the Pythagorean Theorem. In 1999, British scholars have officially published that Budhayana's works date back to the 6th century, which is long before the European Mathematicians.
- ❖ The Solar year was calculated as 365.25875684 days by Bhaskaracharya in the 5th century, hundreds of years before the astronomer Smart.
- ❖ According to the Forbes magazine, Sanskrit is the most suitable language for computer software.

Drink water on empty stomach

It is popular in Japan today to drink water immediately after waking up every morning. Furthermore, scientific tests have proven its value. Read ahead a description of use of water. For old and serious diseases as well as modern illnesses, the water treatment had been found successful by a Japanese medical society as a 100% cure for the following diseases:

Headache, body ache, heart system, arthritis, fast heart beat, epilepsy, excess fatness, bronchitis, asthma, TB, meningitis, kidney and urine diseases, vomiting, gastritis, diarrhea, piles, diabetes, constipation, all eye diseases, womb, cancer, menstrual disorders, ear, nose and throat diseases.

METHOD OF TREATMENT

1. As you wake up in the morning before brushing your teeth, drink 4 x 60ml glasses of water
2. Brush and clean the mouth but do not eat or drink anything for 45 minutes.
3. After 45 minutes you may eat and drink as normal.
4. After 15 minutes of breakfast, lunch and dinner do not eat or drink anything for 2 hours
5. Those who are old or sick and are unable to drink 4 glasses of water at the beginning may commence by taking little water and gradually increase it to 4-glasses per day.
6. The above method of treatment will cure diseases of the sick and others can enjoy a healthy life. The following list gives the numbers of days of treatment required to cure / control / reduce main diseases:
 - ❖ High Blood Pressure - 30 days
 - ❖ Gastric - 10 days
 - ❖ Diabetes - 30 days
 - ❖ Constipation - 10 days
 - ❖ Cancer - 180 days
 - ❖ TB - 90 days
7. Arthritis patients should follow the above treatment only for 3 days in the 1st week, and from 2nd week onwards - daily. This treatment method has no side effects, however at the commencement of treatment you may have to urinate a few times. It is better if we continue this and make this procedure as a routine work in our life.

The Chinese and Japanese drink hot tea with their meals... Not cold water. Maybe it is time we adopt their drinking habit while eating!!! For those who like to drink cold water, this article is applicable to you. It is nice to have a cup of cold drink after a meal. However, the cold water will solidify the oily stuff that you have just consumed. It will slow down the digestion. Once this "sludge" reacts with the acid, it will break down and be absorbed by the intestine faster than the solid food. It will line the intestine. Very soon, this will turn into fats and lead to cancer. It is best to drink hot soup or warm water after a meal.

Good Health to you all. BE BLESSED!!
