

Gudi Padwa is celebrated on the first day of the Chaitra month, as New Year's Day by Maharashtrians and Hindu Konkanis. This is also the first day of the Marathi Calendar. The festival is supposed to mark the beginning of 'Vasant' or Spring. According to the Gregorian calendar, this would fall sometime at the end of March and the beginning of April. According to the Brahma Purana, this is the day on which Brahma created the world after the deluge and time began to tick from this day forth. This is one of the 3 1/2 days in the Indian Lunar calendar, whose every moment is considered auspicious. While the people of Maharashtra use the term Gudi Padwa for this festival and the Konkanis use Sanvsar Padvo (Sanvsar derived from Samvatsar, (meaning year) The people of Andhra Pradesh and Karnataka term the same festival, observed on the same day, Ugadi. The Sindhi festival of Cheti Chand is also celebrated on the same day.

Taj Mahal for Sale

Is your blood boiling like ours?
Well, relax and calm your nerves.
It's only an April fool's joke.
Trust us, even we would have reacted in the same way you did.
After all, Taj Mahal is not only our national monument,
it's also an international wonder.
And we are proud that it belongs to us.

April Fools' Day or All Fools' Day, though not a holiday in its own right, is a notable day celebrated in many countries on April 1. The day is marked by the commission of hoaxes and other practical jokes of varying sophistication on friends, enemies and neighbors, or sending them on fools' errands, the aim of which is to embarrass the gullible. In some countries, April Fools' jokes (also called April Fools) are only made before noon on 1st April.

See a sort of inexplicable enthusiasm, firm confidence and indomitable tenacity in his face!! Marvelous!!!!!!!!!!!!

Miracle man walks again!!!!

Monday, July 9, 2007

He survived against all the odds; now Mr. Peng Shulin has astounded doctors by learning to walk again. When his body was cut into two in a road accident (with a truck) in 1995, it was little short of a medical miracle that he lived. It took a team of more than 20 doctors to save his life. Skin was grafted from his head to seal his torso but the legless Mr. Peng was left only 78cms (2ft 6in) tall.

Bedridden for years, doctors in China had little hope that he would ever be able to live anything like a normal life again. But recently, he began exercising his arms, building up the strength to carry out everyday chores such as washing his face and brushing his teeth. Doctors at the China Rehabilitation Research Centre in Beijing found out about Mr. Peng's plight late last year and devised a plan to get him up walking again.

They came up with an ingenious way to allow him to walk on his own, creating a sophisticated egg cup-like casing to hold his body with two bionic legs attached to it. He has been taking his first steps around the centre with the aid of his specially adapted legs and a resized walking frame.

Mr. Peng, who is learning to walk again, is said to be delighted with the device.

What self confidence!!!!

TIPS FOR TIME MANAGEMENT

Here are practical tips, tools and skills to improve time management. Time management starts with the commitment to change. Time management is easy as long as you commit to action. You can train others and improve your own time management through better planning; prioritizing; delegating; controlling your environment; understanding yourself and identifying what you will change about your habits, routines and attitude.

The key to successful time management is planning and then protecting the planned time. People who say that they have no time, do not plan, or fail to protect planned time. If you plan what to do and when, and then stick to it, you will have time. This involves conditioning, or re-conditioning your environment. For people who have demands placed on them by others, particularly other departments, managers, customers, etc, time management requires diplomatically managing the expectations of others. Time management is chiefly about conditioning your environment, rather than allowing your environment to condition you. If you tolerate, and accept without question, the interruptions and demands of others then you effectively encourage these time management pressures to continue.

BIRTHDAY BOY

Mr. K. B. Radhakrishnan... better known as KBR... needs very special introduction.

You may ask why... because he is so quiet and unassuming that he works relentlessly without even seeing any opportunity to project himself. This never smiling dynamic, yet very cautious personality joined FEI as a Senior Executive (Customer Service). Soon he was promoted as the branch in-charge of our Delhi office. He is currently stationed at Chennai. An astute planner and manager of life's journey, time and resources, Mr. K. B. Radhakrishnan, a well balanced and careful man, is blessed with the calmness and discipline to cope with any arrogant challenge. The reason is that, this experienced man understands issues and circumstances in the accurate and correct perspective.

Mr. K. B. Radhakrishnan is celebrating his birthday on 14th April. FEI Duniya wishes him a very Happy Birthday and a fantabulous year ahead!

Cheers to our V. P. (International Business)!!

You can send in your greetings at kbradhakrishnan@feicargo.net

LOVE THEM BEFORE IT'S TOO LATE....

A long time ago, there was a huge apple tree. A little boy loved to come and play around it everyday. He climbed to the treetop, ate the apples, took a nap under the shadow... he loved the tree and the tree loved to play with him. Time went by.. The little boy had grown up and he no longer played around the tree everyday.

One day, the boy came back to the tree and he looked sad. "Come play with me" the tree said to the boy. "I am no longer a kid, I do not play around trees anymore" the boy replied. "I want toys. I need money to buy them." "Sorry, but I do not have money...but you can pick all my apples and sell them. So, you will have the money." The boy was so excited, he grabbed all the apples on the tree and left happily. The boy never came back after he picked the apples. The tree was sad.

One day the boy who now turned into a man returned and the tree was excited. "Come and play with me" the tree said. "I do not have time to play. I have to work for my family. We need a house for shelter. Can you help me?" "Sorry, but I do not have any house. But you can chop off my branches to build your house. So the man cut all the branches of the tree and left happily. The tree was glad to see him happy but the man never came back since then. The tree was again lonely and sad.

One hot summer day, the man returned and the tree was delighted. "Come and play with me!" the tree said. "I am getting old. I want to go sailing to relax myself. Can you give me a boat?" "Use my trunk to build your boat. You can sail far away and be happy." So the man cut the tree trunk to make the boat. He went sailing and never showed up for a long time.

Finally the man returned after many years. "Sorry my boy, but I do not have anything for you anymore. No more apples for you." the tree said. "No problem, I do not have any teeth to bite." The man replied.

"No more trunk for you to climb on"

"I am too old for that now" the man said.

"I cannot give you anything... The only thing left is my dying roots" the tree said with tears.

"I do not need much now, now just a place to rest. I'm tired after all these years" the man replied.

"Good! Old tree roots are the best place to lean on and rest, Come... come sit down with me and rest."

The man sat down and the tree was glad and smiled with tears... This is the story of everyone.

The tree is like our parents.

When we were young, we loved to play with our Mum and Dad. When we grow up, we leave them... only come to them when we need something or when we are in trouble.

No matter what, parents will always be there and give everything they could just to make you happy.

You may think the boy is cruel to the tree, but that is how we all treat our parents.

We take them for granted... we don't appreciate all they do for us, UNTIL IT'S TOO LATE.
